MURDER TRIAL — Kermit Owen Frazier, left, who Tuesday went on trial for one count of murder and two counts of attempted murder, and his attorney, George T. Davis, go over a copy of the Tribune which carried a story and picture of an interview of Doris and Sharle Thompson of Atherton. Davis attempted to have the trial removed from San Mateo County on the basis the stories appearing in the press would make it impossible for Frazier to get an impartial trial here. Judge Andrew R. Schottky denied Davis' motion. The Thompson twins' mother was killed at their home March 9.

Girls 16 to 25 May Enter Fiesta Contest For the Title of 'Miss Orchid of 1949'

Directors of the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta announced today that plans are being completed now for the finest and most outstanding show this county ever has held. In addition to the exhibits there will be a program of special events program, surpassing anything yet attempted by the fair and fiesta.

Already signed up for appearances at the fiesta is the Great Dante, internationally known as the master showman of magic. With him will be the lovely Moi-Yo Miller and a company of 35 mystifiers. Dante comes to San Mateo County from a successful appearance at the San Diego Fair.

Dr. Ray reported rapidly increasing interest in the "Miss Orchid of 1949" contest, the winner of which will be the official queen of the fair. The county has been subdivided into 10 areas, with one contestant selected from each area. From these 10 "Miss Orchid" will be selected as first lady of the fair and fiesta. The other nine contestants will act as her court of honor.

The contest is open to all girls between the ages of 16 and 25 inclusive, married or single. Contest blanks may be secured from any county newspaper or chamber of commerce office, or from the fair and fiesta office, Box 232, San Mateo. Each entry blank should be accompanied with a recent photograph of the contestant, and must be in the hands of the special events director of the fair and fiesta by midnight Wednesday, July 27. There will be a grand prize for the winner of the contest, to be announced when the jury of impartial judges has been chosen.

Another event of interest will be a Mutt Show, where youngsters may enter their pet dogs for judging. There will be special days for every community in the county, and one of the most thrilling spectacles will be the air races set for Aug. 14.

Floral and garden exhibits in every category will be far more impressive and extensive this year, according to Norvell Gillespie, general manager of the fair.

Hogs Only In Hog Zones: Supervisors

John Pietronave of Colma will have to confine his hog raising activities to the section of his property near Skyline Blvd. zoned for hog raising, the County Board of Supervisors ruled Tuesday afternoon.

Frank Skillman, secretary to the County Planning Commission, declared that the commission wanted the hog operations stopped in the part of Pietronave's property not zoned for hogs.

Supervisor Thomas Hickey questioned the requirement declaring, "Refuse from some of the larger ranches run into the Colma Creek and smell up South San Francisco. This man has only 35 hogs and no drainage into the creek. Where's the justice?"

The supervisors ordered that Pietronave comply with the planning commission recommendation or abate the hogs and referred the matter to the district attorney's office.

The supervisors Tuesday also:

Referred to the district attorney's office a request by the Millbrae city clerk for deactivation of the Millbrae Police Dist.

Ordered erection of stop signs on the south side of Bay Rd. and west side of Fifth Ave. in North Fair Oaks and on Village Ln., Washington St. and 87th Ave. in Colma.

Transferred $1462.50 from the unbudgeted reserve to John J. Fahey Jr., justice of the peace of the first township, for the salary of an additional part time clerk.

Granted the bid on two fire escapes for Community Hospital to Fire Protection Inc. for $6475.

REPORT HEALTH VIOLATIONS

Two violations, both minor, of the health and safety code at Harry Heiberg's new Redwood Bowl were reported by the Dept. of Public Health to the Redwood City council Monday. Councilmen notified Heiberg that he was expected to comply with departmental requests.

Butano Group Seeks Action

Butano Forest Associates Tuesday decided to urge the California State Park Commission to accept Mt. Madonna Park in Santa Clara County as matching property for Butano Forest.

The decision was made at a meeting in San Francisco, attended by Butano Associates directors and members from Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, Santa Clara and San Mateo Counties.

The representatives also endorsed a joint resolution adopted by the state legislature, urging the park commission to take a liberal view in passing on the qualifications of matching properties offered by counties to enable the forest to be acquired from funds already in the possession of the park commission.

The resolution, the Butano Associates announced, recited the unique character of the forest for recreation, and the imminence of logging operations which would be a "black spot" on the name of California.

The group also decided to renew its appeal to the boards of supervisors of San Francisco and other Bay counties, asking them to contribute "substantial" sums toward purchase of Butano Forest.

Beaches and recreational areas of San Mateo County are overcrowded each weekend, the group announced, pointing to Butano as possible relief for the situation.

Protest Recorded On MP Rezoning

One protest was recorded Monday night against the request of Menlo Park City Councilman Wallace Brown that his property on University Dr. be rezoned to accommodate multiple dwelling units or medical clinics.

The protest letter, signed by J. J. Graham, 1241 University Ave., was read before members of the Menlo Park Planning Commission who voted to postpone the public hearing until Aug. 15.

Graham's objection was based on the fact that Brown has not disclosed what type of structure, if any, he intends to build on the property.

In a city council meeting two weeks ago, Councilman Brown charged "that there is something rotten about this deal." He was referring to the fact that no protests were made against the request of Dr. Max W. Forsythe to build a dental clinic on property adjacent to the Brown property. More than 100

Ask Temporary Lights Along Liguori St.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles and private firms on Liguori St. near Chestnut St. Monday night petitioned the Redwood City council to install temporary street lights along Liguori until a street improvement project, which includes permanent lights, is installed.

Councilmen referred the petition to the electrical department.

Oldest Henhouse in County May Cost $3000

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Tuesday afternoon was considering ways and means of acquiring the oldest henhouse in San Mateo County.

The henhouse is located on an unused right-of-way at the rear of the Tripp Store on Kings Mt. Rd., Woodside, and is wanted by the County Recreation Commission for storage purposes.

Frank Skillman, secretary of the County Planning Commission, told the supervisors that the shed is almost as old as the Tripp store, oldest wooden structure in the county and now an historical museum. The shed was Dr. R. O. Tripp's henhouse, Chmn. Henry W. Edmonds observed.

Skillman said, however, that one of the owners of the adjoining property, Mrs. Gerald Halsey, wants the shed for use as a garage, and being situated on the unused right-of-way it belongs neither to the county nor to the Halseys.

Skillman suggested that if the county were to build a $1500 garage for Mrs. Halsey it could then acquire title to the 40-foot by 40-foot right-of-way and the shed.

Edmonds questioned whether the county could spend up to $3000 to get the land and shed and said he wanted to go out and look the property over for himself. The supervisors tabled the matter until a later date.

Funny Business Quits As Monks Grab Wires

There'll be no more "monkey business"—for awhile, at least—for Chi Chi and Midgy.

Midgy is in the hospital and her mate, Chi Chi, is sitting disconsolately in his cage wondering "what happened."

These two little monkeys, who last year raised quite a rumpus in Menlo Park on a four-day spree of freedom, Tuesday had a shocking experience — which undoubtedly has impressed even their little monkey minds with the dangers involved in sneaking out of the sanctuary of their cage.

Tuesday these two little jungle truants slipped out of their cage at Gowans Coffee Shop at Bayshore Hwy. and Willow Rd., East Palo Alto, climbed into a nearby tree, and then went hand-over-hand up a guy wire to a high-tension power pole.

A Pacific Gas & Electric Co. crew was called to get them down, but before crewmen could arrive the monkeys had grabbed onto wires carrying high-voltage current.

Both were thrown unconscious to the ground. Midge, the female, was badly burned on the hands (or it is paws?) and was taken to the Palo Alto Dog and Cat Hospital.

Dr. Ernest Cohen, veterinarian, gave her an anaesthetic and treated the hands, which were burned to the bone. He thought at first that he might have to amputate. Wednesday, however, he reported that Midgy had eaten a hearty breakfast of celery, lettuce, and carrots—and that she is going to recover.

William Gowans reported that Chi Chi appeared very unhappy about being separated from Midgy. The two monkeys are owned by 18-year-old Jack Madden, whose mother works at the coffee shop.

Madden was given the monkeys about a year ago by a friend in Los Angeles who bought them from a sailor. Last Aug. 10 they escaped from their cage in Menlo Park and eluded Madden, Menlo Park police, and volunteer monkey hunters for four days. Police even tried tear gas on them, but without success. They were finally captured with banana bait.

These Kids Mustn't Like School System

Redwood City police last Sunday arrested three juveniles for expressing violent disagreement with the educational system.

Police wouldn't give the youngsters' names but said that at 9 p.m. Sunday that at 9 p.m. Sunday they visited McKinley School and the child care center at that school and . . .

Broke five panes of glass.

Tied a fire hose in knots and then turned or the water.

Broke a glass door.

Kicked a screen door full of holes, and

Scattered vegetables from a refrigerator around.

Thompson Fined, Withdraws Suit

The Redwood City Council for Civic Unity Tuesday announced that the last suit had been dropped against three barber shops charged with discriminating against Negroes by refusing to give them service.

Meanwhile, Alphonse Thompson, who brought the suits, was fined by Police Judge W. H. Thorpe.

Mrs. Elizabeth Eisenberg, council secretary, explained that the last barber shop which had refused service to "people of minority groups" had decided to cut their hair.

Jonathan Rowell, president, said that all the suits had now been dropped.

The three suits had been brought by Thompson, 26-year-old Negro laborer who lives at 61-A Willow St. He charged in each of the suits that barbers had refused to cut his hair because of his race.

Judge Thorpe Tuesday fined Thompson $100 after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace on June 30 at the Brass Door, 10 Linden St.

At a hearing in the city hall, Rowell introduced a letter from Dr. Phillip S. Geller which said that two days after Thompson's arrest the defendant had bruises on his body and was in a "nervous" condition.

Thorpe said that he had intended to send Thompson to jail but would make the sentence read $100 fine or 10 days in jail if Thompson would agree to undergo treatment for his psychological disturbances. Rowell said that Thompson had agreed to that provision and was eligible for care as a veteran.

The attorney claimed that Thompson had undergone treatment in the army for a nervous condition.

3 Grass Fires Endanger Homes

Three small grass fires, reported by firemen to have been of incendiary origin, endangered homes west of Burlingame and Redwood City during the weekend.

The county forest service reported that a half acre of grass and brush burned alongside Canyon Rd., Burlingame Hills, Saturday night. The fire apparently had been set deliberately, the firemen declared.

The fire burned downhill in the thick brush and endangered several homes in the area. Some eucalyptus trees were singed by the flames, which apparently started about 11:30 p.m.

The other two fires were west of Redwood City, one near Cordilla two-care accident Sunday at and the other near Upland Rd. at 5:30.

Residents of the area extinguished the first fire, but the second burned over an acre of grass and came to the driveways of two homes.

Neat Burglar Gets $10,000 in Jewels

A neat-working burglar who disturbed nothing else walked off with $10,000 worth of jewels from the home of Mrs. Harriet A. Taylor, 343 Ranelagh Rd., Hillsborough Sunday afternoon.

Entering through an unlocked downstairs rear window, the burglar went directly to Mrs. Taylor's second floor room and took a jewel box from the first drawer of the dresser.

Taken were one gold and five silver chain bracelets, a diamond and sapphire bracelet, a diamond watch, a platinum lapel watch with removable dagger, a blue enamel necklace watch, enamel chain with diamond clasp, gold pin, diamond an sapphire ring, platinum and diamond cufflinks, a string of pearls with diamond clasp, and a set of long-wrap around pearls.

Exact value was not known today. Hillsborough police are investigating.

Cops Nab Youth In Burglary Job

Two Menlo Park police officers early Wednesday caught a 19-year-old ex-navy youth in the act of burglarizing Gowans Coffee Shop at Bayshore Hwy. and Willow Rd.

Samuel H. Dodson, who was living temporarily at a Menlo Park motel, was captured inside the cafe at 1:22 a.m. by Officers Thomas Casey and L. M. Currell. Casey reported that Dodson was attempting to jimmy the cigaret machine and had already taken $1.15 in nickels from a counter juke box machine.

Officer Casey discovered a rear window and screen had been broken in the cafe. Through a window he could see a figure inside, moving around. He radioed for assistance, and when Currell arrived, Casey went in the back window while the other officer stood guard at the front entrance.

Dodson, who was unarmed, offered no resistance.

Talk About A Peck Of Trouble—

A tale of grand theft, bigamy, fake suicide, threats and divorce unfolded today at Burlingame City Jail after police Monday captured Nathan L. Magnesi, 22-year-old former seaman, as he sought to see his first wife in Burlingame.

Once thought dead after an apparently fake suicide last March 23, Magnesi was very much alive today—and very much in trouble.

In rapid succession this morning he was booked on a grand theft warrant from Bakersfield, served divorce papers on behalf of Lucille Magnesi, and interrogated about suspected activities in Oakland and Los Angeles.

It was just a week after he had sent a birthday card to Burlingame for his son, Ricky's, first birthday and $10 for a gift. Lucille Magnesi and the young son live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Ganey, 21 Bancroft Rd.

His handsome features disguised by a two-day growth of beard, his curly hair tousled, the young suspect stood in his cell this morning and talked to his wife, whom he had married some three years ago in a dapper cutaway coat and white tie.

Another wife, Mrs. Robert Boyer, was in Bakersfield. He married there under the assumed name July 3, according to Bakersfield police.

He had admitted, Burlingame police said, taking some $2000 his Bakersfield employer had given him Monday to deposit in the bank. He admitted being wed twice. He admitted writing a series of bad checks in Oakland, but said they had been made good.

Nevertheless, Oakland police this morning placed a "hold" order on Magnesi.

He denied faking a suicide, but the San Francisco Missing Persons Bureau still has a wallet, suicide note and jacket found on a San Francisco wharf March 23. Lucille Magnesi says they are his. The missing persons bureau is holding them under his name.

Chief of Police R. C. Theuer said Magnesi's mother had called from Walnut Creek, saying she thought he was dead.

There were bizarre touches to the story.

The suicide note said, "I am going back to the sea, where all my troubles started."

Only last week, Lucille Magnesi, a pretty brunet, went to Oakland to identify remains thought to be her husband. A body that had washed out of the Bay closely tallied, but positive identification was not possible.

The birthday card had said to "buy Ricky something he needs."

Lucille Magnesi, who already had filed a non-support charge against her elusive husband said bitterly this morning:

"I did buy something. Food."

Police found a crumpled paper sack in the car driven here by Magnesi. It contained $1059 in currency. Magnesi said he had bought the car in Bakersfield for $590 after leaving the checks and silver in the superintendent's car in which he had started for the bank.

San Carlos Man KC Grand Knight

The San Mateo Council 1346 of the Knights of Columbus held its 41st annual installation of officers recently in their hall in San Mateo. Officiating at the ceremony was Charles Cardone, the newly appointed district deputy of the eighth district.

The newly installed grand knight is John McQuaid of San Carlos. McQuaid has been active in degree work throughout the entire State of California. Also installed were Maurice McCormick of San Mateo as the Deputy Grand Knight, Clarence Richardson of Burlingame as Chancellor, Clarence McDermott of San Mateo as Warden and Donald Splain of Burlingame as the Recording Secretary.

Delegations from councils from San Jose to Oaklalnd were on hand to witness the ceremony and extend their congratulations to the newly installed officers. Among the dignitaries of the order present for the installation were Thomas Duffy, Vice-Supreme Master of the Fourth Degree; Rev. Father Pierce Donovan, State Chaplain, and James McColdrick, the newly elected State Deputy.

The council also at this meeting presented a gold wristwatch to the retiring Grand Knight, Guido Simoni of Redwood City.

$60,000 Swim Pool At Community Park May Become Reality

BY BUD SPRUNGER

Construction of a $60,000 swimming pool at Community Park seemed assured Monday when the Redwood City council voted to have City Mgr. E. A. Rolison determine the legal steps necessary for that construction. Councilman Robert Spillers, head of a swimming pool committee, reported that his group had inspected pools in Livermore and Salinas and favored the Livermore plan for this city.

He said that the pool at Livermore measured 42 feet by 82.6 feet, or slightly larger than the Sequoia High School pool. It was constructed, he continued, at approximately $60,000.

The Salinas pool, which is 50 feet by 100 feet, cost $175,000 and is enclosed.

Spillers said that there was $42,000 in a swimming pool account in the 1944 civic improvement bond issue. He asked City Atty. Cuthbert Currie whether it would be possible to add another $18,000 to that from the unspent part of the funds for the development of Community Park.

Currie said that so long as the pool would be in Community Park it would be possible to spend those funds on the tank. Councilmen then voted to go ahead with the park and recreation commission's recommendation that the pool be built.

The next steps, councilmen indicated, will be to have an architect draw plans and specifications for the pool and then put it out to bid.

The pool will use up just about all the money left in the park and recreation accounts in the 1944 bond issue. So far with bond money the city has purchased Community Park and installed a baseball diamond and a recreation building on it, and has installed a new turfed and lighted softball diamond at Hawes Park.

No decision was reached last Monday on the construction of a turf sprinkling system for the Community Park baseball diamond.

City Mgr. E. A. Rolison reported that the Redwood Plumbing Co., Inc., had been the low bidder on the job with a $2386 bid. He said, however, that the bid had not been signed and that it contained specifications which had not been advertised for.

Currie ruled that the bid was irregular.

Councilmen failed to get a second for any motion on what to do next and the matter was then put on the agenda for the next regular meeting.

The next lowest bidder was the Associated Engineers Co., who offered to install the system for $2800.

W. H. Sadler Jr., speaking for the low bidder, said that the bid had not been signed because the firm did not know that was demanded by city policy. Currie stated that the city could not sue for performance of terms on a bid which was not signed.

Cardroom Approval Delayed

The Willow Inn, 710 Willow Rd., North Palo Alto, almost won a decision on whether it could operate a cardroom on the premises, but the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors finally decided to postpone the issue again Tuesday.

Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch made a motion to grant the application of Mabus and White, but the motion died for lack of a second. The postponement was until Aug. 2.

Meanwhile, another application for a card table in the south county area was filed by Nicholas C. Capputo. Capputo's proposed cardroom, with one table, would be at 100 Fifth Ave., Redwood City.

The Willow Inn was represented at today's hearing by an attorney, John K. Weeks, who promised the supervisors that patients from the Veteran's Hospital, which is across the street, wolud not be allowed to play in the card room.

The one table, Weeks declared, would be for merely a "friendly neighborhood game."

Among those protesting granting of the permit were Chaplain Norman E. Edwards of the Veterans Hospital, George A. Miller, representing the North Palo Alto Residents Assn., Mrs. Paul Schlegel, and Frank B. Hever, executive officer of the hospital.

Chmn. Henry W. Edmonds pointed out that such an establishment could get out of hand later on and said he knew of one instance where a permit had been granted and that now "it probably will take the district attorney's office a year to clean up."

Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey, opposed the granting of the permit and declared:

"If the people in the neighborhood don't want it, I don't want it either. We had no protests on the other cardroom applications. I think the local people should be listened to."

Supervisor Edward R. McDonald finally asked that all interested parties be notified and that the matter come up for final consideration on Aug. 2.

Action on Capputo's application to operate one card table in conjunction with a billiard parlor at 100 Fifth Ave., was postponed because reports from the sheriff's and district attorney's office have not been turned in to the supervisors.

The supervisors Tuesday also:

Referred bids on an addition to the kitchen at the County Relief Home to the building department for study and recommendation. Low bid was that of Sundquist Brothers at $17,950.

Heard a request from Louis Epps, contractor on the County Fiesta building. asking that the final payment on the building be paid. The board instructed Epps to get a letter of completion from the architect.

Asked that the county planning commission hold a special meeting to reconsider setback line requirements on a Colma lot on Washington St., owned by Thomas Callan.

24 SM City Aides Quit Legion Post

Twenty-four San Mateo city employes plan to leave the San Mateo American Legion Post because it suggested that all city workers be required to take a "loyalty oath".

One of them, a member of the police department, resigned his membership Wednesday.

And, he said, eight others will resign, also, with a total of 24 expected to follow suit later.

They will transfer to the Amvets, he said.

The San Mateo Amvets Post took a stand against requiring the "loyalty oath", after San Mateo American Legion Post 82 proposed it to the city council.

The council is now debating the oath's merits.

New MP Firehouse Permit Granted

A permit for construction of a new fire house in Menlo Park was awarded Wednesday by the office of County Bldg. Insp. A. W. Russell.

The permit was taken out by the Menlo Park Fire Dist., and the contractor, Tri-City Builders, 1304 County Rd., Belmont.

Russell's office reported that the $27,854 fire station is to be built at the corner of Alameda de las Pulgas and Valparalso Ave., west of Menlo Park.

The 50 by 62 foot building will be of a rustic type, with exterior walls of board and batten, and a composition roof. The building will have a wood frame, with steel girders supporting the roof.

The building will be used to station of two pieces of fire-fighting equipment, and also will contain an office, recreation room and a dormitory for five firemen.

Motorist Breaks Wrist In Accident Here

Jacob Huyck, 50, El Sobronte, suffered a broken right wrist Tuesday at 11:05 p.m. in a two-car accident on Bayshore Hwy. at Chestnut St.

He was riding in a car driven by Jack M. Merritt, 42, Aptos, which collided with a car driven by Lambert Lapack, 39, Richmond.

Redwood City Inventor Joins Burlingamite In Turning Out Semi-Automatic Prune Picker

BY JOHN HUBBARD

Two Peninsula inventors have just done it again.

Three years ago they perfected the "Jiffy Dog" machine, which gives an "electric blanket" treatment to hot dogs and turns them out ready to eat in 55 seconds.

This time it's a semi-automatic prune picker.

Inventors Jim Martin of 1434 Bellevue Ave., Burlingame, and Albert Aff of 735 Adams St., Redwood City, are confident their newest creation will be a smash hit—particularly in the Santa Clara Valley, largest prune-producing area in the world.

It's a natural, they believe.

"We're batting 1.000 with the 'Jiffy Dog' gadget," said Aff, and he doesn't see any reason why he and Martin should have any less success with the prune-picker.

Actually, the picking machine won't be confined solely to prune work. It will be used to harvest any kind of ground crop—like walnuts and figs and even (with certain modifications) Idaho potatoes.

Experiments by the inventors have shown that—using the picker—a farm workman can scoop up from two to five times as many prunes a day as he can by hand—and with much less fatgue.

"Just think what that will mean to farmers," said Martin.

Prunes in the Santa Clara Valley are big business. Very big business. Last year the prune harvest there brought in $12,460,000.

Almost $900,000 of that went for labor.

With each worker picking say 100 boxes of prunes a day instead of an average of 35 or 40, the way he does by hand, the result will be lower labor cost—more profit.

Last year, said Aff, 25 per cent of the valley's prune crop was lost because of a shortage of workers.

"When we get this thing going," he said, "we'll be able to do the whole job with 200 machines."

The prune-picker is such a simple mechanism it's a wonder somebody didn't think of it before.

But evidently nobody did. Aff and Martin have patents pending on it.

And, as is often the case, necessity mothered the invention—necessity and a feeling by Aff that there must be some easier way to gather prunes than the scramble - around-on-the-knees method.

"Last year," said Aff, "I was picking prunes for a friend of mine. He couldn't get any help. I worked 15 minutes and quit. I couldn't take it."

Aff went home and meditated as he examined his scratched knees.

Why should anybody have to take it? he asked himself. No reason at all, he decided.

So he and Martin went to work four months ago. The result today:

A 450-pound, motor driven picker costing about $400 to build.

How does it work?

Simple.

The operator lies face-down on a cushioned bed much like the pilot's beds being tried out by the air force in jet planes. His nose is about 12 inches removed from the ground.

Instead of picking up the fruit one at a time and dropping them into a box, he just scoops them off the ground with his hands into a canvas conveyor belt, which carries them to a big container at the rear of the machine.

His left foot rests against a pedal which can swing his bed around in a 12-foot arc, so he can cover a lot of ground without having to move the machine ahead by pressing another pedal with his right foot to activate the locomotion machinery.

That's all there is to it.

Bed-swinging and locomotion are handled by a one-and-a-half horsepower gasoline motor.

The prune-picker is a steel frame with rubber wheels. It's easy to push around by hand and easy to haul, like a trailer, behind an automobile.

It's really a practical piece of farm equipment.

Don't confuse Aff and Martin with the wild-eyed, visionary type of inventors. They're not. They're down-to-earth in their work.

The "Jiffy Dog" machine proved that.

Eight thousand of them have been marketed. A million and a half paper cartons, also invented by the two men to hold the "dogs," are being used a month.

And "the thing's getting bigger all the time," they said.

They've turned out only one prune-picker, an experimental model.

Two months ago they opened an inventing-developing-marketing office at 324 Lorton Ave., Burlingame.

And right now they're interested in forming a company. They'd like to raise $25,000, manufacture 400 or 500 machines and then either sell them to farmers and operate them with their own employes or just rent machines and employes on contract basis.

To do this, they need financial help. They need people with money who will join with them in taking the prune-picker out of the experimenetal stage and into the production stage.

Plan Menlo Park Rent Survey

Plans for a survey of all rental units in Menlo Park were outlined to members of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce Tuesday by Dave Ingram Jr., chairman of the fair rent committee.

Aug. 1 is the date set for the telephone survey, Ingram said.

Prior to the telephone survey, questionnaires will be mailed to property owners, he added.

"The big problem is finding how many single family rental units are available," Ingram stated.

He said his committee has addresses of almost all property owners who have multiple dwelling units.

If the survey indicates there is an abundance of rentals available, the fair rent committee will petition the Menlo Park City Council, Ingram explained. If evidence warrants, the council would hold a public hearing. Following that step, the council would decide whether it should pass a resolution requesting the state to lift rent controls in the area.

Royer Appointed As RC Planner

Mrs. Mary G. Thorning and W. J. McKeegan were reappointed by the Redwood City council Monday to three-year terms on the library board.

The council also appointed William Royer to fill a vacancy on the city planning commission.

Royer, who is a real estate salesman and a member of the Redwood City Beavers baseball team, will replace John Layng, who resigned after 16 years on the commission. Royer's term of office is six years.

Eugene J. Hanson On Isle of Crete

Eugene J. Hanson, Seaman Apprentice, U.S.N., son of Mrs. Philip Hanson of 2401 El Camino Real, Redwood City., was scheduled to arrive at the Island of Crete last Saturday, as a crew member aboard the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Coral Sea for a five-day visit.

EPA Man Is Held After Bar Fight

An East Palo Alto man was in the county jail Monday with a headache after he tangled early Monday with a special patrolman.

Richard Guernsey, 24, of 2301 Poplar Ave., was booked on charges of being drunk, disturbing the peace, assautl, battery and resisting arrest.

He was taken to the jail after his head first was sewn up for the wound he suffered in the affray.

The sheriff's office reported that Special Dep. Charles R. Butterworth was called to Mike's Club after Guernsey and an unidentified man had pulled a handful of hair from the head of the bartender, Bill Mann.

The hairpulling occurred when the bartender refused to serve the pair at 2:25 a.m.

Butterworth stated that he found Guernsey at a service station, and when he tried to arrest him, Guernsey bit him on the thigh. Butterworth slugged Guernsey with the butt of his .38-caliber revolver after Guernsey took the billy club away from the officer.

Temporary Sewer Main Gets Council Okeh

Permission was granted by the Redwood City council Monday night to Russell J. Varsi of Reno to install a temporary sewer main to serve some four-family apartments he wants to build on Stambaugh St.

Varsi offered to put up a fund to guarantee that when a sewer system is installed in that area he will take part in the assessment district which would pay for sewers.

Redwood City Residents Get Stanford Awards

Three Redwood City residents are recipients of fellowships and scholarships for the 1949-50 year at Stanford University. Mrs. Irene Thieme McPherrin was awarded the Florence H. Fries scholarship in medicine and the Arthur B. Stewart award, also a medical scholarship.

Helen J. Ridge was awarded the Blair scholarship in nursing and Robert G. Kelly was given the George Loomis fellowship in American literature.

Mills Development To House 3200

Homes for an estimated 3219 persons will be built on the Mills estate, preliminary plans unveiled in Burlingame show.

The long-awaited plans for subdivision of the wooded, park-like estate were disclosed to city officials by Leslie Moore, Mills estate vice president.

The sloping hills between Burlingame and Millbrae also will hold a shopping center, three school sites, Peninsula Hospital and a 17-acre public park.

The area will be annexed to Burlingame which already has taken in a 100-foot strip around the estate.

The first phase of the development will cover 258.7 acres, just west of El Camino Real, approximately one-third of the estate which stretches westward to Skyline Blvd.

There will be 670 single family lots with an average of 8066 square feet and a minimum frontage of 60 feet.

A garden apartment district near the highway will house 154 families. The park will include the Mills mansion, former family home in the center of the estate.

WHERE THE SPIRIT OF SERVICE BEGINS

One Coast-wide school system is for telephone people only—and better service for the West is the result

1. As this young lady learns to use a training switchboard, she'll also learn many things that will be mighty important to good service. All through her training she'll see how operators make courtesy and helpfulness a normal part of their jobs. And the same spirit is present as other telephone people learn their new skills.

2. On stubby poles like these, linemen learn to use their new climbing equipment. This is just one of the more than one hundred courses that telephone people study in towns large and small—up and down the Coast. In 1948, thousands of employees received training. That means thousands of men and women better able to furnish good service to you.

3. On-the-job-training here in the West is typified by this "student" who is learning the workings of a trouble indicator frame—an automatic detective that constantly makes sure the lines on its "beat" are giving good service. Even experienced employees take refresher courses like this to keep up-to-date . . . and keep learning their way up the ladder.

4. Good service for you comes from telephone people who know their jobs. You can help them serve you best by making sure you always have the right number in mind before calling, leaving a little time between calls, giving the called person time to answer.

Business Activity Indicates Stronger Position In Western States

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dire predictions that the Pacific Coast's war-swollen economy would stagger under the current business adjustment haven't materialized.

"Actually, no greater decline has occurred here than in the rest of the country," the Federal Reserve Bank said today. Its report was based on a special survey of the 12th District.

The district includes Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington.

The report said the predictions were based on the assumption that the district had a one-industry economy and the fact that the percentage of unemployment is greater in the district than nationally.

The district did experience a greater drop in business late in 1948 and early this year than the country. Conditions in March and April were relatively better however, and by the end of April the district position compared favorably to that of the country.

"The district does not appear to be any more seriously affected by recent events than the country as a whole," the bank concluded. "In fact, allowing for differences in timing of the peak reached, several series (relating to business activity) indicate a stronger position here than nationally.

"These indications should not be seized upon, however, to predict a less severe adjustment in the district.

"The district economy is sufficiently diversified to be subject to most of the forces affecting the country as a whole. The district as a whole does not have a one-industry or one-crop economy. It is not likely to lose existing industries to other parts of the country on a significant scale, despite the problems created by rising freight rates and the difficulties of the West Coast shipping industry."

'Mock Duel' Death Investigated; Hold Son of San Diego Attorney

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Details of a "mock duel" were investigated by deputy sheriffs today after the death of Thomas T. Crittenden Jr., 18, son of a local attorney.

Sheriff Bert Strand said that a friend of the victim, Richard F. Ridenour, 19, was booked in the county jail on suspicion of manslaughter. The two youths, members of socially prominent families, were singers in a local civic operetta company.

Strand quoted Ridenour as saying that he and Crittenden went to nearby Mission Gorge yesterday afternoon to practice shooting. They took up positions behind two huge boulders 50 yards apart, according to Strand.

Each fired several shots at the opposite rocks "to hear what a bullet sounded like when it glanced off a rock," Strand said.

Crittenden raised a white handkerchief, signalling the firing to cease. Just as he raised his head above the rock, Ridenour said he saw a bird on the rock, and fired at it. The bullet struck Crittenden in the head.

Ridenour ran for help to a nearby highway. He flagged down a car, explained what happened, and fainted. He revived when deputy sheriffs arrived, and guided them to the spot.

Crittenden died this morning in county hospital without regaining consciousness.

Brush Burned Off Near County Park

Two acres of brush burned near Memorial Park early this morning and endangered an unoccupied cabin, the county forest service reported.

The fire was extinguished by two crews from the Pescadero station after three hours. More than 1000 gallons of water was used on the burning brush, leaf mold and dry limbs of trees.

The county firemen said that they did not know how the fire started. The fire was a mile west of Loma Mar, on the Pescadero Creek Rd.

1 Dead, 2 Hurt In Auto Crash

SACRAMENTO (AP)—One man was killed and two companions were injured early today as their northbound automobile struck a bridge 15 miles south of here on Hwy. 99.

Dead is Donald Dean Caudell, 21, Sacramento. He was a passenger in the car, driven by Joe Johnson, 24, Sacramento. Johnson and June West, 21, Sacramento, another passenger, are hospitalized.

The crash occurred at 2:35 a.m. and Caudell was dead upon arrival at a hospital.

Congress Hopes Sept. 1 Will Be Closing Date

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional leaders have set Sept. 1 as the target date for adjourning this session of Congress.

They aren't too optimistic about it and figure that it may be Labor Day or later before all the odds and ends of legislation are cleaned up.

FRANK GRIFFIN: View Of the London Dock Strike

BY FRANK GRIFFIN

LONDON — Whether anyone liked it or not, I determined to be an international good-willer and give the London dock "stroykers" the benefit of my unbounded diplomacy.

The fray revolves about two Canadian ships, the crews of which are involved in Western Hemisphere jurisdictional difficulty and English dock lads are out in sympathy.

Where to locate the Canadian vessels was no problem—merely contact one of those sitting encyclopedias, known as the London cabbie.

"I can tyke you there," the one I hailed replied immediately. "We'll have to go below London Bridge because the big ships cawn't come up fawther—what with low water and low bridges. Do you know where London Tahr is?"

"Uh, huh," I throated, wondering what the Tahr had to do with the "stroyke"—except that the Crown Jewels are harbored there.

"Wot's needed," informed my five foot shelf of knowledge, "is some bloke with guts in 'im to settle this blawsted thing."

"Thought you working men put this present Labor Government in power," I needled.

"That we did and we'll be heavin' 'em out. More stroykes since they've been in than when we had the dawmned Tories."

★ ★ ★

Where Tooley Street S. E. 1 meets Morgan's Lane a group of workers were lounging about a delapidated snack bar held up by hope in an unregenerated bombed-out area. Tea and conversation appeared the forte and I wandered over.

"Is the strike any better?" I opened.

They sized me up a few moments and one let loose.

"It's a better stroyke than you American blokes can put on!"

That was a good one if the grunts and guffaws which greeted the sally were any indication.

And what was I doing? I explained I was a "newspaperman" with the Tribune. Fortunately they assumed it was either the New York Herald-Tribune or the Chicago Tribune—and I saw no reason to argue with the good gentlemen.

Again, as usual, I was in the wrong place, but two of the lads hoisted me aboard a bus headed toward Redriff Road where, after passing two bridges I could locate the Argomont, one of the "black" vessels.

A single bored "bobbie" maintained majestic law and order in vicinity of the ship and explained that all was very "dead."

Englishmen do not picket in the football sense as do Americans and various bystanders merely held up numerous walls and wailed their woes.

I kibitzed in on one group. Every statement appeared to be prefaced by—"Now, from a common sense point of view—."

"Common sense" seemed to have more points of view than a French night club!

★ ★ ★

During four hours' wandering about I talked with some 30 London workers and general attitude was one of bewilderment. They were out of much needed work because of some overseas jurisdictional fight and were at loss to comprehend why Canada didn't settle her union troubles at home.

Also, they felt that crews, once having taken out a ship, should be required to man and maintain such vessel back to home port—and fight their battles on home territory.

However, some sort of union solidarity was involved and thus they were padding the pavement.

★ ★ ★

A block or so distant from the Surrey Docks where the Argomont was berthed, two young men in their 20s paraded after the fashion of "sandwich" men.

One huge placard proclaimed —"The Argomont is BLACK." The second—"We Brought Our Ships Over—We Will Take Them Back."

I opened conversation with the slimmer of the two who turned out to be a Canadian from Vancouver. It seems that all East Coast Canadian ships are struck and the young fellow has been out of work since April, his vessel having been tied up in Antwerp. Belgian immigration officials, he explained, gave him the heave-ho, and thus he was in England.

Some of the boys had returned home but, he outlined, others had to remain and carry on the fight and that he had elected to do.

Since April he has lost 15 pounds—and looked it.

The second Canadian, from Newcastle, New Brunswick, was the phlegmatic type, looked me over and said, "Bud, got an American cigarette?"

Opportunity of my life for a candid photograph and camera in Paris. Oh, fine!

★ ★ ★

I was given a thorough, if one-sided, briefing on various phases of the struggle and when I asked if the matter of Communism was involved both young fellows scoffed the idea.

The English government has put troops to work handling perishables and loading merchandise for export—Britain sorely needing "hard" foreign currency.

Troops are not touching the two Canadian vessels, but employers will not permit any of the other 132 berthed ships to be unloaded until the Canadian vessels—in time seniority—are handled. Thus the stalemate.

However, it appears that the government, the shippers and the dock workers all are unhappy over the tragic situation, and every London paper is screaming about the inept manner in which the affair has been handled.

Some face-saving compromise is due—and fast—else London may have one of the dawmnest blowups since the blitz.

High School Costs Per Pupil In SM County Show Increase

High school costs per pupil in San Mateo County's public schools showed major increases in 1947-48 over those for 1946-47, California Taxpayers' Assn. reported today.

Comparison of average daily attendance, per pupil expenditures for teachers salaries, and total current expenditures per pupil in the larger high school districts in the county for 1946-47 and 1947-48 is as follows:

	Average Daily Attendance 1946-47	1947-48
Jefferson	695	741
San Mateo	2511	2540
Sequoia	2248	2470
So. San Francisco	744	741
Teachers' Salaries Per Pupil	1946-47	1947-48
Jefferson	$133.30	$172.56
San Mateo	173.82	210.54
Sequoia	165.84	180.03
So. San Francisco	157.47	173.51
Total Current Costs Per Pupil	1946-47	1947-48
Jefferson	$218.64	$277.66
San Mateo	262.53	324.88
Sequoia	238.53	257.96
So. San Francisco	239.07	255.27

Both state support of public schools and property tax levies for 1947-48 were higher than for 1946-47, the Taxpayers' organization said. State support for high schools for 1947-48 was on the basis of $120 per pupil, whereas for 1946-47 was $90. Property taxes for all public schools in the state for 1947-48 reached $202,603,395, compared with $167,940,897 for 1946-47. Data for 1947-48 are the latest available statewide.

"School spending since the war has skyrocketed," the association said.

"Increased salaries and other expenditures show up plainly in the expenditures per pupil for the individual school districts.

RC Man Struck By Train, Lives

Judson Reeves, 75, 2146 Hillcrest Dr., Redwood City, suffered minor head injuries and cuts and bruises Monday when he walked into the cylinder of a southbound Southern Pacific Co. engine near the Broadway crossing.

The accident at 7:40 o'clock happened 240 feet south of Broadway.

Engineer Wallace W. Lewis, 43, San Bruno, said that Reeves was walking from west to east preparing to board a northbound train and apparently didn't see the southbound No. 112 which was traveling at approximately five miles an hour.

Redwood City police said that Reeves was treated at Redwood City Clinic and then returned to his home.

Furman D. Marshbanks, 127 Broadway, a registered nurse, was standing some 20 feet from the scene of the crash and assisted with first aid.

Assessment Area Gets First Okeh

Tentative approval of the boundaries for an assessment district which will pay for Broadway No. 3 improvements was given Monday night by the Redwood City council.

The project calls for the extension of Marshall St. from Redwood Creek to Liguori St., the erection of a bridge over Redwood Creek, the extension of Broadway south of the National Motor Bearing Co., Inc., plant, and the installation of a pumping plant in the industrial tract. The pumping plant will carry waste waters over Bayshore Hwy. so that they can be dumped in the bay.

The assessment area approved by motion is west of Bayshore Hwy. between Redwood Creek Sweeney Ave., east of Bay Rd. between Sweeney and Willow St., and east of Spring between Willow and Broadway. It also includes an area back of the San Mateo County Courthouse.

Street Project Measure Passes

Legal steps leading to three street improvement projects were passed Monday night by the Redwood City council.

The council, on each of the three following projects, held public hearings, passed resolutions declaring the projects necessary, passed resolutions declaring their intention to continue with them, and passed resolutions approving plans and specifications:

1. Stanley St. and Westgate between Hopkins and Brewster Aves. west of the Alameda de las Pulgas.
2. Virginia Ave. between Roosevelt and Oak Aves.
3. Five of the 12 alleys between Fulton and Clinton Sts. and between Jefferson and Vera Aves.

All three will be paid for by assessment districts.

Auto Thief Gets Haul; Breaks Into Parked Car

A thief got nearly $1600 in furs, clothing, luggage and jewelry Tuesday when he broke into the auto of a Hillsborough couple dining at a restaurant south of Palo Alto, the Santa Clara County sheriff's office reported today.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rirschorn of 452 Roblar St. reported at 9 p.m. that their car had been jimmied and looted. Sgt. Howard Harvey of the Mountain View substation of the sheriff's office was investigating today.

New NMB Plant Set for Downey

Contracts were signed Tuesday by National Motor Bearing Co. of Redwood City, for the erection of a $500,000 plant for its subsidiary, Arrowhead Rubber, on an eight-acre site at Downey, Calif.

Lloyd A. Johnson, president of National, announced that Arrowhead's present plant, located in Los Angeles, would be abandoned and all its operations transferred to the Downey plant. The new plant will be two structures, with an aggregate area of 62,000 square feet.

Johnson said that the erection of the new plant would have no "immediate" effect on the Redwood City operation. He did indicate, however, that with the enlarging of production facilities at Downey there might be some change in the local operation but declined to say what changes would or might take place until the new plant was in operation.

"I can say," said Johnson, "that our success in Redwood City resulted in the expansion of the plant to the Downey offices."

He said construction at the new plant will start tomorrow.

DAV Commander Claims No Flag Sales in RC

George W. Ipsen, commander of Edmund Parrott Chapter 16, Disabled American Veterans, today announced that the local chapter is not engaged in any flag-selling activity currently in the city.

Ipsen said it had been brought to his attention that a member of the DAV is selling flags, requesting people to buy and pay him anything they may desire. Investigation showed that the man is a life member of DAV, but is conducting his own enterprise, Ipsen pointed out. The vendor is not a member of Edmund Parrott Chapter and the chapter does not share in the proceeds of his sales, Ipsen said.
